FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 21.

QUEEN PETS.—There is a curious case at Rockport of the singular attachment sometimes instituted between man and the lower animals. A Mr. Hale has been for a long time accustomed to throw bits of food for some cats in a little brook that runs along the back of his lot. Lately he observed that they seemed to be waiting for his visit, and with a little training they were induced to eat food directly from his hand. Then they learned to play and fondle about his fingers, held in the water, and enjoyed his caresses. More recently the largest one of the four, a huge old fellow over two feet long and very large round, allows Mr. H. to take him entirely out of the water, slide him about freely from hand to hand, apparently enjoying the novel gymnastics. When Mr. H. goes to the brook he calls them with a peculiar whistle, and they soon come rushing briskly from down stream. Not long ago he brought them his usual lunch of fish and mackerel, when only the large one came. The cat waited a few moments, then turned down stream and soon came back, bringing his tardy family to supper. This shows there is no touch of the human in them, for any ordinary biped boarder would have pitched in without waiting and cleared the table!—Boston Globe.
